

Jason Donev did his PhD at the University of Washington in Seattle and is now a professor in the department of Physics and Astronomy at the University of Calgary. He studies how people learn science and teaches about energy issues, especially nuclear power. His recent course 'Introduction to Energy' an overview of the entire energy sector for non-science students won him the 2012 Student Teaching Award.